Web3 provides young individuals – regardless of job position – the ability to become an expert in this growing field without having to climb the decades-long latter to reach a level where you can contribute meaningfully to a company or specific field of work. The smartest people in the world are moving into Web3 – exiting FANG companies – and joining crypto companies or DAOs.

However, there is no Web3 job marketplace to provide such information in a decentralised way. With token incentives, talents are willing to upload their CV and Connex could integrate on-chain credential with their uploaded CV. With such on-chain and off-chain personal credentials, Crypto Companies, social DAOs, protocol DAOs, NFT gated DAOs, investment DAOs and more are attracted to the platform and further boost people’s adoption. These on-chain and off-chain integrated credential help people to create their own web3 professional community.
