DexFi has been at the forefront of DeFi innovation since 2021. Our team of over 5 full-time developers includes highly experienced senior engineers with expertise in Solidity development, custom UI design, and advanced quantitative analysis. Complemented by specialists in back-end systems and DevOps, we deliver scalable infrastructure and reliable, high-performance solutions.

// Building the Future of DeFi

DexFi offers a robust suite of DeFi services designed to support users at every level. Our flagship product is an advanced yield aggregator that replicates the sophisticated trading strategies of seasoned investors.

// Full Stack Liquidity Management

DexFi Vaults are the first yield aggregator designed to automatically manage and rebalance multiple farms within a single vault while enabling automated profit taking into blue-chip assets. Building on this innovation, DexFi launched its groundbreaking AiLM (Automated Intelligent Liquidity Manager) in August 2024 — an intelligent, adaptive liquidity management system designed to optimize performance and redefine modern yield farming.
