The manifesto

Memes move markets. We're not pretending otherwise.

No roadmap theater, no promises about price. Just a coin built by people who are terminally online about one thing.

If it pumps, it's because the internet showed up. If it doesn't, nobody owed you a yacht.

Where this comes from

No pitch deck. No VC round. This started as a meme and it's staying a meme, all the way to the chain.

Built by people who live in these threads, not people who discovered crypto Twitter last week.

Chaos is the strategy.
