GTG WHITEPAPER

Introduction

GTG (“Get The Girl”) is an interactive, AI-powered virtual relationship game built on the Solana blockchain. The player’s mission is to impress and emotionally connect with the character “Celine” across multiple immersive levels — from meeting her at a club, to deeper interactions on the beach, and ultimately winning her heart.

GTG is designed to gamify crypto with real-time engagement, monthly jackpots, and token burning mechanisms that drive demand and reduce supply.

Conclusion

GTG is more than a game — it’s a tokenized entertainment experience blending romance, crypto economics, and community-driven growth. With every in-game interaction, the token ecosystem strengthens, offering fun, reward, and opportunity.

GTG is deflationary by design: the more people play, the more tokens are burned, increasing scarcity and value. Co-marketing efforts with key opinion leaders (KOLs) and influencers will help scale awareness and adoption.
