It allows stakers to maintain liquidity while participating in staking and potential DeFi usages 1 . Hyperliquid is a Layer 1 blockchain designed for on-chain financial applications, featuring a decentralized perpetuals exchange with an on-chain order book 2 . Currently Interesting Hyperliquid's HYPE token surged approximately 71% to $35 over the past two weeks, significantly outperforming the broader crypto market, which saw a $6 trillion decline in early 2026 3 . This rally is structurally linked to the protocol's activity, as 99% of trading fees from its perpetual futures product are used to buy back HYPE tokens, creating a mechanical bid during high volatility 3 . Hyperliquid recorded $216.286 billion in 30-day perpetual volume and $68.42 million in 30-day revenue, with the daily HYPE buyback rate climbing to nearly $4 million in early February 2026 3 .
