OKB holders benefit from fee reductions that can reach up to 40%, depending on the amount of OKB held, and they can participate in exclusive token sales and staking programs within the OKX ecosystem. Additionally, OKB is the native gas token of X Layer, OKX's Ethereum Layer 2 blockchain, where it is used to pay transaction fees and participate in governance. The integration of OKB as the sole gas token in X Layer strengthens its utility and ties it to OKX's broader decentralized finance and blockchain initiatives. Your Own Report Last Updated: Feb-4-2026 21:21 UTC Currently Interesting OKX founder Star Xu recently discussed the evolution of the blockchain industry, emphasizing the shift towards Bitcoin and Ethereum adoption by younger generations who view crypto as a safer store of value 1 . Xu highlighted a positive global regulatory shift, particularly in the U.S., and urged industry professionals to prioritize the industry's reputation over short-term speculation 1 . He stressed the importance of holding core assets like Bitcoin, Ethereum, and OKB for long-term benefit 1 . For OKX's future, plans through 2026 include expanding services beyond exchange offerings into traditional finance (TradeFi) and stock trading, developing blockchain products such as cross-chain assets and Real World Assets (RWA), and enhancing OKX Pay and the Web3 wallet for improved user onboarding 1 . The development of X Layer, OKX's Ethereum Layer 2 blockchain, and OKB remains a core strategy for OKX's infrastructure growth 1 2 . Get Caught Up OKX Launches Compliant Payments and Card Products in Europe OKX introduced OKX Pay and the OKX Card across Europe, positioning it as the first compliant decentralized finance (DeFi)-based payments and card system within the EU 3 . This system allows users to deposit euros, convert them to fiat-backed stablecoins held in self-custody, and spend them anywhere Mastercard is accepted, with conversion occurring only at the point of purchase 3 . This initiative aligns with the EU's Markets in Crypto Assets (MiCA) regulatory framework, ensuring consumer protection standards 3 . OKX CEO Blames Binance for October Liquidation Spiral OKX founder Star Xu claimed that Binance was responsible for the crypto crash on October 10, 2025, attributing it to "irresponsible marketing campaigns," specifically criticizing Ethena’s USDe offering with over 12% annual percentage yield (APY) on Binance 4 . Xu asserted that Bitcoin failed to regain a positive correlation with traditional markets like the S&P 500 or Nasdaq following this deleveraging event 4 . Binance, however, refuted these claims, stating that the market risk-off move and subsequent $19 billion liquidation cascade were due to a macro shock from an update on Donald Trump's tariffs 4 . OKX Lists ZAMA for Spot Trading OKX announced the listing of ZAMA (Zama), a cryptography company focused on building open-source homomorphic encryption tools, for spot trading 5 6 . ZAMA deposits opened on January 30, 2026, with ZAMA/USDT spot trading commencing on February 2, 2026 5 6 . Additionally, existing ZAMA pre-market futures were converted into standard perpetual futures on the same day 5 6 . Biggest Stories of 2025 OKB Experiences 54% Decline and Subsequent Recovery Signals OKB declined 54% from a high near $238 in early October 2025, nearly retesting the 78.6% Fibonacci retracement support level of $90.71 before bouncing 7 . The Accumulation/Distribution (A/D) indicator showed rising buying pressure, suggesting a potential recovery, while the Relative Strength Index (RSI) approached the neutral 50 level, indicating weakening bearish momentum 7 . (December 23, 2025) OKB Ranks Among Top Performers in 2025 OKB finished 2025 with a 115% gain, outperforming many other cryptocurrencies despite significant market drops 8 . This performance followed a promise in August to burn 65.26 million tokens, effectively halving the supply to 21 million 8 . (December 29, 2025) OKX Wallet Faces 'Backdoor' Claims OKX founder Star Xu addressed allegations of a "backdoor" in its Web3 wallet, dismissing the claims but offering a 10 BTC bounty to security researchers who could verify them, emphasizing transparency 9 . The allegations originated from a OneKey employee, suggesting the wallet could potentially steal private keys, though Xu stated multiple security layers protect users 9 . (November 16, 2025) OKX Faces Community Backlash Amid Competition OKX experienced community backlash due to perceived lack of strategic vision, transparency issues with its OKB token, and intense competition from Binance 10 . Critics noted OKX's stagnation compared to Binance, which has a more transparent token buyback and burn program 10 . (October 8, 2025) OKB Surges 18% After Dropping to $150 OKB surged 18% in 24 hours, bouncing off its 20-day Exponential Moving Average (EMA) at $188 after a 34% drop to $150 earlier in the month 11 . This rally was attributed to increased retail accumulation and rising Open Interest, indicating strong bullish momentum 11 . (October 4, 2025) OKB Experiences 450% Rally Due to X Layer Upgrade and Token Burn In August 2025, OKB saw a dramatic 450% rally driven by the OKX X Layer upgrade and a one-time token burn that fixed its supply at 21 million, enhancing its scarcity 12 . The X Layer, built on Polygon technology, made OKB the exclusive gas token for a new Layer 2 ecosystem focused on DeFi, payments, and real-world assets 12 . (August 26, 2025) OKX Launches $100 Million X Layer Ecosystem Fund OKX launched a $100 million X Layer Ecosystem Fund to support developers building on its new X Layer network, aiming to attract long-term on-chain applications and partners 13 . OKB was designated as the sole gas token on the platform, emphasizing its deflationary design 13 . (August 24, 2025) OKB Continues Rally After Major Token Burn OKB surged over 300% in two weeks, reaching $239, following a major token burn on August 15, 2025 14 . The burn removed 65 million OKB tokens, reducing the circulating supply to 21 million as part of OKX’s blockchain infrastructure upgrade, including the launch of the X Layer Ethereum L2 network 14 . (August 21, 2025) OKB Jumps 90% in 7 Days Towards $200 OKB surged 88% over a week, reaching a new high of $196, driven by a 93% supply reduction and token migration to OKX’s new X Layer chain 15 . The migration was nearly complete, with 65.26 million OKB tokens burned, creating a capped supply model 15 . (August 21, 2025) OKB Rally Builds Momentum with Surging Liquidity OKB's price surged 12.28% in one day, contributing to total gains of 180%, amidst rising liquidity in both spot and derivatives markets 16 . Over $3.69 million worth of OKB was bought and moved into private wallets, with increased long positions in derivatives 16 . (August 20, 2025) OKB Continues Rally Despite Bitcoin's Dip OKB surged 176.5% over a week, outpacing Bitcoin’s recent dip below $115,000, driven by a major burn of 65.2 million OKB coins that reduced supply and boosted prices 17 . Despite the rally, OKB’s market cap fell from over $6 billion to $2.6 billion 17 . (August 19, 2025) OKB's Correction Ahead? OKB surged 38% from $88 to $131.5 before retracing to $127, driven by increased demand for futures trading 18 . Trading volume soared 284% to $523 million, with open interest in futures up 120.7% 18 . (August 17, 2025) OKX Permanently Burns 279 Million OKB Tokens Worth $26 Billion OKX burned 279 million OKB tokens, valued at over $26 billion, reducing the total supply from 300 million to 21 million 19 20 . This action followed an announcement to overhaul OKB tokenomics, including removing minting and manual burns via smart contract updates 19 20 . (August 15, 2025) OKB Price Skyrockets 110% Week-to-Date OKB surged 110% over a week, driven by a major token burn and ecosystem upgrades, with OKX burning 279 million OKB tokens (approximately $26 billion worth) 21 . The token’s supply was reduced from 300 million to 21 million, with additional burns planned 21 . (August 15, 2025) Massive Token Burn Sends OKB Skyrocketing 130% to New All-Time High OKB hit a new all-time high of $135 after a one-time burn of 65 million tokens, reducing supply to 21 million and fueling a 130% surge 22 .
