We're making crypto fun, easy, and social.

CRYP2NOVA

With a token that fuels it all

We're pushing the next wave of adoption by simplifying how people send each other crypto. From using PAR as gas for withdrawals, to using PAR to generate a single QR code for all of your Bitcoin, Litecoin, Ethereum, and Doge payments, the products we're building allow endless possibilities for content creators, merchants, and individuals alike.

We’ve launched real-world, ass kicking products.

We started with ParJar Telegram, the viral social wallet that let's people instantly send crypto in group chats for free. Our next wave of products will include a single wallet across multiple platforms and our very own app. We're here to make crypto as easy as cash, whether it's between your friends or your business.

And have the best community in crypto

We launched by giving away 25% of all the PAR in existence to people who got involved. As we grow, we're giving out an additional 28% of our total supply to people who participate in our massive community programs.

We are Parachute.

Parachute was founded by a group of friends who wanted to change how people interact with cryptocurrency. Today, we're inspired to build amazing tools that help people use it in their daily lives. We believe cryptocurrency should be fun, easy, and social. Everything we do aims to make this happen. We're a traditional startup and a WeWork Labs company. Our mission is to bring cryptocurrency into the mainstream over the next 10 years.

Lindsey Winder

AKA Captain Parachute. Lindsey's a three-time startup founder who built large scale health-tech products in his previous life. Now he lurks on Telegram and has an obsession with Emoji's.

Alexander Michelsen

Alexander is a CFA charterholder and bonafide numbers wiz who's made his mark with JP Morgan Chase and WeWork. Now, he makes sure Parachute runs like a stopwatch.

Shawn Simas

Shawn is the madman behind every Parachute product you see. From Parjar, to Parena, to the next hundred products we launch - Shawn builds beautiful tools that make crypto fun and easy use.
