Story

The Year 2035. Rubicon Lab. New Arc City.

In the middle of the 21st century, people are still fighting for power and domination using any methods including science. During an experiment on a new bioweapon, a virus HÈL escaped from Rubicon's laboratory. HÈL immediately started spreading around the metaverse and plunged it into chaos. This virus is a cutting-edge development, designed to enhance physical and mental capabilities of a human, as well as, develop aspects of the senses atrophied by millennia of evolution.

The virus affected different people in different ways. A majority of those infected turned into impersonal and unconscious predators that do not control their animal instincts, with an insatiable craving for living flesh (Zombie NPC). The others, thanks to their genetic uniqueness and immunity, retained their intellect, memories, and habits, but also experienced an instinctive thirst for the flesh. (Smart Zombies - Zombie Players). Some of them even acquired specific psychosomatic and mental abilities (Legendary Zombie).

The only chance of survival was a Rubicon Corp. antidote. However, the antidote wasn't put through the test phase. So the effect is unpredictable and dangerous. It is for this reason that the result of taking the “Antidote” is either blocking the initial reaction to the virus (complete healing) or partial blocking and returning to consciousness (Smart zombies - Zombie Players), and sometimes complete mutation (Mutants People).

Nine months after patient zero past ... Since then, the metaverse is divided into two factions: zombies who declared that they are the next step in evolution and all human beings must be wiped out of existence, and humans who want to return life to 'pre-zombie normal' and get rid of zombies. Now it is your turn to choose the side in the war for the future of the metaverse!
