For Developers: A Comprehensive Blockchain Gaming Solution

For developers, Xterio offers an end-to-end, chain-agnostic solution that simplifies blockchain gaming. Collaborating with top-quality technology providers, Xterio manages all on-chain operations, including tokens, NFTs, and digital assets. Core actions like claiming, minting, burning, breeding, and evolving are integrated through a proprietary GaaS platform, featuring APIs and ready-to-use smart contracts. These solutions notably include Xterio's own L2 Chains (XterioChain ETH and XterioChain BNB).

Xterio is advancing an AI-powered asset generation and toolkit engine, empowering developers to craft more dynamic, personalized, and cost-efficient in-game experiences. In collaboration with REKA, Xterio is also developing a proprietary AI "emotion engine" capable of emulating human behaviors, bridging the gap between AI and authentic human interactions.

In addition to its technological solutions, Xterio provides financial and publishing services to drive partner game growth, offering expertise in marketing, user acquisition, platform partnerships, data analytics, and live operations.
